MATIAS CORREA

FrontEnd Web Developer || Game Developer

ABOUT ME

I am a FrontEnd Developer with experience in modern technologies such as Next.js, TypeScript, and Prisma. I am also passionate about game development, working with engines like Godot and Unity. I am looking for opportunities to grow professionally and take on new challenges.

EXPERIENCE

- I collaborated in the development of complete websites, from planning and design to implementation and maintenance at Global Solidarity for 3 months.
- I collaborated as a Fullstack Developer at Weso Studio, participating in the development of internal products and client projects.
- I led an internship at Instituto IDRA where students developed a project for Weso Studio. I supervised all stages of the project, from ideation to implementation, providing technical and organizational mentorship.
